SCHOOL'S PRESENTATION

The school's history

L'Italiano Porticando, founded at the beginning of 2005 with the aim to be a cut above ordinary language schools in Turin and to provide a specialized centre and point of reference for those who want to study the Italian language and culture in Turin. Turin is in a city well-known as an industrial centre, but little-known by tourists. Turin has, however, an incredible artistic and cultural legacy to offer to those who love Italy, its language and its culture.

The school is managed by its founders - Laura Faussone, Caterina Costanzo and Rosaria Costanzo. The three partners joined their long experience and their abilities in teaching the Italian language, culture and history to foreigners in order to give life to a project which at that time was new in Piedmont: the possibility to experience the Italian language and culture in a destination which is not typical for foreigners as, for example, Rome, Florence, Siena or Venice.

The school's team

The three founders are present and active in the school's life. They have structured their role within the school according to their competencies and experience. Rosaria – who has an university degree in foreign literature and languages and in business administration - is mainly responsible for marketing and administration. Laura – who is specialized in arts and who has an university degree in architecture – is responsible for the cultural part of L'Italiano Porticando and for contacts in Italy and Caterina – who has graduated as an interpreter and translator – is the contact person and teacher coordinator and is responsible for the course structure.

The school's teachers are selected with great care according to their education and their experience as teachers for Italian language and culture to foreigners. All teachers are native speakers, have a university degree, and are highly motivated and experienced in supporting foreign students in their first meeting with Italy and the Italian language and during the language learning process.

The school's location

L'Italiano Porticando is located in a beautiful 18th century building in the Quadrilatero Romano, the historic city centre, in midst of Turin's pedestrian area. Next to the most important piazzas, near both train stations and only two minutes from Piazza Castello, the beating heart of Turin.

The classrooms are bright and inviting. Though they have all you need in a modern language school, they are not typical classrooms, as the school's management have created a comfortable and cosy atmosphere making you feel rather at home than at school.

Furthermore, the students have at their complete disposal books, newspapers and magazines, dictionaries, CDs and DVDs which they can borrow or use at school.

The school's teaching method

The teaching method used by L'Italiano Porticando is the direct communicative teaching method. Italian is the only language spoken at school from the first day. Our teachers are experts in teaching Italian to foreigners and so there isn't a need for using other languages to bridge language gaps or to communicate with students. This is true for all levels, from beginners to advanced.

Teaching materials – mainly developed by the school – are chosen and created to stimulate free conversation and to simulate real communication situations. Class activities are designed to give the student all necessary tools to handle daily life situations and social interaction in Italy.

Though the communication ability is fundamental – we aim first at the development of the student's communication ability and then at the elimination of mistakes – the classes leave room also for grammar exercises and for exercises which will help the student to use and understand the written and spoken language. Many original texts of various kinds (articles, literature, advertisements etc.), songs, films, documentaries help the student to improve these abilities.

The classes are complemented by extra-curricular activities organized by the school in the afternoon, allowing students to put into practise what they have learnt during their morning lessons.

COURSE OFFER 2010

L'Italiano Porticando proposes classes for those who want to learn Italian because they love Italy and its culture, for those who study Italian at university, for those who have moved to Italy and want to live in this country or want to study Italian for business purposes.

The School offers all year round Standard courses (5 to 8 people), Classes in small group (2 to 4 people), Individual classes and Combined Courses for all levels of proficiency. The Combined Courses are so called, because they are the combination of a standard course with individual classes, conversation classes, Business Italian, history of art or architecture, with tango or cinema. Since 2009 students who want to have their level of proficiency certified, can enrol for the CILS Exam (Certification of the University of Siena) preparation courses, which will be held during the month(s) before the exam's date.

Cultural and extra-curricular activities organised by the school (such as walks through the city, visits to museums, wine tasting and courses about the region's typical dishes) will help the student to deepen his comprehension and communication abilities. These activities are part of the school's language teaching concept and are included in the course fee.

The Cultural courses related to cuisine, history, arts, architecture, literature and traditions of Piedmont and Turin can be linked with the language course, making thus language learning even more interesting.

As in the past the school offers one-week language holiday courses for groups. You will find a description in the following pages.

Furthermore L'Italiano Porticando organises again old and new one week Special topic Courses, which include extra-curricular activities depending on the season or on events in the region or in Turin.

In the following pages you will find the details of our courses and the starting dates. This information can also be found on our web site www.italianoporticando.com.

- documentation and further educational materials.

Topics suggested:

History of architecture:

Styles in Italian Architecture: analysis and description of architecture in different epochs (f.ex. roman architecture, gothic, romanica, renaissance and baroque architecture).

Terminology of architecture: f.ex. the parts of a church or a building, or the building types which are characteristic for an architectural style.

Italian architects: some of the most famous architects in history and their most significant works.

History of Turin:

Roman Turin: the foundation of the city and the monuments which witness the Romans' presence in Turin.

Turin capital of Baroque: the marvellous Royal Residences, witnesses of time and splendour are a reminder of the Savoyan family in Turin. From Guarini Gaurino to Filippo Juvarra, two famous architects who made the city into the capital of the Savoyan State.

Art Nouveau in Turin: Turin at the beginning of the 19th century, the "flower style" of the villas and buildings of the city's new areas.

Changing Turin: Turin, a city which is changing as far as its urban layout and its architecture is concerned, a city where renowned international architects - like Gae Aulenti and Arata Isozaki - and artists - like Michelangelo Pistoletto, Jannis Kounellis, Giuseppe Penone, Mario Merz and Per Kirkeby - meet and work to create the Turin of the future.

History of Art:

The most important tendencies of Italian Art: from byzantine art to renaissance art, from baroque to the artistic movements of the nineteenth century to the avant-gard movement of the twentieth century.

The protagonists of history of art: presentation of the lives and analysis of the main works of some Italian and international artists.

Religion:

The route of the pilgrims: presentation of the route of the pilgrims of the Middle Ages on their way to Rome, of the places, the abbeys and the monasteries which witness the spirituality of the past and of the present.

The history of the Holy Shroud: the course or seminar aims to present to the student one of the biggest mysteries of Christianity: the Holy Shroud, which has been kept in Turin for several centuries. Part of the course will also be a visit at the Museum of the Holy Shroud.

Literature:

Famous authors of Piedmont and of Italy: during this course the students will get to know several authors, who were born, grew up and lived in Piedmont and who in their works described and spoke of this region.

Some of those authors have been important for the Italian literature and are, in some cases, also internationally renowned, as for example Alfieri, Pavese, Soldati, Ginzburg, Fruttero & Lucentini.

During the course the students will also read and analyse extracts of the authors and will make excursions to the places where they once lived or where they found their inspiration, in order to understand better the atmospheres described in their stories.

Traditions, history, industry and more....

Language holiday courses (one week courses)

Language holiday courses have always a particular "topic" and are organised in Turin or in one of the charming cities of the Piedmont area (in the Langa, the Monferrato or in the Susa Valley). They are "designed" for those who want to spend a cultural holiday, where the language experience is integrated with the cultural experience.

In 2009 L'Italiano Porticando will offer for those interested in such an experience two courses: the first one for those who want to discover Turin and the second one for those interested in the Langa, rich in gastronomic specialities and renowned for the production of Piedmont's most famous wines.

Upon request L'Italiano Porticando will also organise one week language holiday courses with other topics. In the following pages you will find a list of topics, which are not supposed to give the total overview of a region rich in culture, history and arts, but are suggestions for those interested in studying Italian in a somewhat different way. These courses are organised for groups of at least 10 people. The prices quoted are for groups of 10 participants.

Language holiday courses on request

The following courses are organised for groups upon request. The courses are held in Turin or in the places you find in the single course description. The prices depend on the number of participants.

The ideal level of language proficiency needed for the courses is an intermediate or advanced level. It is, however, possible to organise tailored courses for beginners.

Carnival in Piedmont (in February)

Carnival in Italy is not only Carnival in Venice. Every region has its own masks and traditions. Getting to know the Italian Carnival traditions and those of the Piedmont area with their typical masks, traditional bakery and local events will enrich the language and cultural knowledge of all Italy lovers. A visit of the town Ivrea and their famous "Battle of oranges" in a historical setting will be the highlight of the carnival activities.

The Royal Residences

Visiting the Savoy Palaces is getting to know the witnesses of the past. Due to their historical meaning and the beauty of the landscapes they have been declared "world cultural heritage" sites by UNESCO. The sober architecture of the Kings' Palaces of Turin, the Summer Residence Racconigi with its huge park, spectacular Residence of Venaria Reale and the impressive Basilica of Superga will be the fascinating background for this language course.

Turin: A city between arts and mystery

Discover a city with many faces; known as industrial city but full of hidden treasures and dark secrets. The city of Turin is home to the Egyptian Museum – the biggest collection after Cairo. You will also be able to find the most important and mysterious relic of Christianity, Jesus Christ's shroud. A language course with a background of tradition, history and mystery.

Piedmont's Baroque

Turin's exceptional architecture, its magnificent royal residences, impressing churches and palaces, make this city one of the capitals of European Baroque. An educational experience within the architectural testimonies of this epoch.

Art Nouveau in Turin

With its many beautiful palaces built around the turn of the century Turin is the capital of the Italian Art Nouveau. A completely new experience for lovers of Italy. The highlight of this course will be an excursion to the Lago Maggiore.

Turin: the capital of the Italian film

Only a few people know that the Italian Film has its origins in Turin. The city was and still is the centre of the Italian movie industry. A language course focused on the modern art of film making. With special visits to the Museo Nazionale del Cinema and the possibility of attending the International Film Festival taking place around this time of the year.

Turin, industrial city between arts and culture

A language course that will take you through the different epochs of this city. Turin a changing city! From the Roman city walls to the Lingotto, the headquarters of the FIAT factory to the modern museums – famous within Italy and abroad.

Wines & Cuisine of Piedmont

Asti and the Monferrato: a voyage through wine and history

The Monferrato, the area around Asti is not only known for its "Moscato" but also allows the visitor to participate in historical events. The "Palio" of Asti (in September) is apart from the "Palio of Siena" one of the most important events of this kind in Italy. The visit of a cellar producing sparkling wine and a seminar about wines will help us to find out more about the wines of Piedmont. This language course will broaden our perspective of life in Piedmont.

Alba: Capital of Gourmets

Learn and enjoy in and around a city that is rich in historical testimonies and which is a significant example of the oenogastronomic culture of Piedmont. Alba is also the centre of agriculture of this region. The main event of this language course – if it takes place in October - will be the International Fair of Truffles. Here you will be able to taste the famous white truffle of Alba as well as many other typical delicacies. The language course also focuses on wine tasting and on a cooking course held by a regional chef.

Getting to know charming Piedmont

Fenestrelle - The Chinese Wall of the Alps

Discover the untouched nature and the hidden treasures of Piedmont. Find unknown witnesses of European Culture like Fenestrelle the "Chinese Wall" of the Alps - one of the most impressive defence systems of the Alps. A course in which we will learn about language, nature and culture.

The Susa Valley and the Scene of Olympia 2006

The Alps of Piedmont were the scene of the last Olympic Winter Games 2006. A language trip through a fascinating valley and its routes which were called "paths of heaven" by the pilgrims of the Middle Ages.

The spiritual places of the Susa Valley

The Susa Valley used to be the original travel route from France to Italy. This language course is about the routes of the past. The pilgrims of the Middle Ages on their way to Rome called them "paths of heaven". The famous and imposing "Sacra di San Michele" (today the symbol of Piedmont) as well as the impressive Abbey of Novalesa still represent the travel routes of the past.

LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY LEVELS

The language courses are structured according to the following language proficiency levels (Common European Framework of Reference).

Beginners (A1):

A course for absolute beginners, without previous knowledge of the language. After about 30 hours of language lessons the student will be able to understand and to use familiar everyday expressions and phrases aimed at the satisfaction of basic needs (in a bar, at the restaurant, at the market, at the doctor's ...). The student will be able to introduce him/herself and others, to ask and answer simple questions concerning personal details, e.g. the place he/she lives in, his/her job and other information about his/her person. The student will be able to interact in a simple straightforward way -using present and past tense-, if the other person talks slowly and clearly.

Advanced beginners (A2):

He student has already had from 60 to 80 hours of language lessons. He or she will be able to communicate in familiar situations, to use expressions related to areas of most immediate relevance, like sports, leisure, family, hobbies, housing etc. The student will be able to express him/herself in a limited way and to deal in a general way with routine situations and simple non-routine matters. He/she can describe in simple terms his immediate needs, background and environment.

Intermediates (B1):

For students who have attended between 120 and 160 hours of language lessons. The students will be able to understand the salient features of clear standard input on familiar matters regularly encountered in work, school, leisure, family etc. He/she will be able to deal with most situations likely to be encountered while travelling in an area where the language is spoken. The student will be able to produce written text on topics relating to familiar or personal interests, describing experiences, events, dreams, hopes and ambitions and giving reasons and explanations for opinions and plans.

Advanced intermediates (B2):

For students who have had about 200-240 hours of language lessons. The student will be able to understand a wide range of demanding texts on concrete and abstract topics, grasping relevant information and the main topic of the text. He/she can communicate with a degree of fluency and spontaneity that makes regular interaction with native speakers quite possible. He/she will be able to produce clear, detailed texts on a wide range of topics, to explain opinions and to give advantages and disadvantages of various options.

Lower Advanced (C1):

For students who have had at least 280 hours of language lessons. The student is able to understand easily nearly everything, he/she can summarise information from different spoken and written sources and reconstruct arguments in a coherent manner. The student is furthermore able to express him/herself spontaneously, very fluently and precisely.

Advanced (C2):

The student is able to understand easily written and spoken language. He/she is able to speak fluently and spontaneously also in difficult situations of everyday life (family, work, public offices ...). He/she is able to write clearly and fluently different kinds of texts, from letters, to reports, to essays, to summaries of difficult texts.
